SENATORIAL MATTERS.

The Condition in the East—The Carr Club to Meet Tomorrow Night.

Hon. Charles M. Stedman, who has just returned from a trip through the eastern part of the State, says that any one who thinks the senatorial fight in that section is a one-sided affair is woefully misinformed. Some have had an idea, and Mr. Simmons' friends have made the claim, that that gentleman would carry the East practically solid, with Jarvis and Waddell out of the way. It appears that such a condition does not exist—far from it.

Major Stedman says that in every county he has visited Simmons will have to fight to carry it, if he is able to do so at all. Many of the eastern counties are conceded to Carr, and it is known that he is gaining strength daily.

The Carr Democratic Club of Greensboro, which is one of the warmest political organizations that ever whooped it up for a candidate, will hold a rousing meeting in the court house tomorrow night. All the members of the club will be unable to get in the court house, but if necessary the meeting can be held outdoors.

Knights of Kadosh Organized.

A new fraternal organization was perfected last night in the Pythian Hall. The order will be known as Greensboro Council No. 198, "Knights of Kadosh." State Deputy R. B. Hines has been in the city several weeks working up the order, and presided at the meeting last night, which was a very beautiful and interesting service. Among the members are a number of our leading business and professional men. After the obligation of the members the following officers were elected:

Past Chancellor—J. N. Leak.
Chancellor—Dr. W. L. Grissom.
Vice Chancellor—Rev. T. A. Smoot.
Recorder—A. A. Johnson.
Treasurer—C. C. Fordham.
Master of Arms—Roscoe Ward.
Guard—C. E. Thomas.
Watchman—F. I. Faison.
Chaplain—Rev. P. L. Groome.
Trustees—Dr. Dred Peacock, Herman Sternberger, E. L. Sides.
By order of the council, the charter was left open until next meeting.

The Festival of All Saints—The Papal Delegate.

Tomorrow will be the festival of "All Saints," and in commemoration of the day high mass will be celebrated at St. Benedict's Catholic church at 7:30 a. m. At 4:30 in the afternoon there will be the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

The most distinguished Catholic divine in America, Archbishop Martinelli, Pope Leo's representative in this country, passed through Greensboro last night at 11 o'clock on his return from Savannah to Washington. He spent yesterday in Charlotte and Belmont.

An Involuntary Bankrupt.

Upon petition of John L. and Powell Gilmer and other creditors, S. A. Bledsoe, of Dobson, Surry county, has been declared an involuntary bankrupt, the papers in the case having been filed in the office of the clerk of the Federal Court of this district. Bledsoe's liabilities amount to about $1,000.

The Southern News Company.

The Southern News Company is a new business just opened in rooms in the new McDuffie building. Mr. Paul Cobb, who recently moved to Greensboro from Elizabeth City, is the manager. The company will deal in periodical literature, music, books, etc. Their announcement appears elsewhere in the Telegram today.

Rev. Walter B. Holcomb at the Chapel.
This earnest and eloquent young preacher is drawing crowds to Spring Garden Street chapel each night, and the interest is unabated. Many souls have been born anew unto Christ, and all hearts are touched and quickened by the simple and beautiful words of life which fall from his young lips.

Enterprising Boys.

Raleigh Times.
The Greensboro correspondents seem to be adding considerable gaiety to the Senatorial campaign.

CITY BUYS THE WATERWORKS

THE BONDHOLDERS COME TO TERMS

Rather Than See an Independent System the Water Company Agrees to Accept the City's Proposition and Sell Out for $75,000—The Purchase Ordered at a Special Meeting of the Board of Aldermen Last Night—The Transfer of the Property.

If another trace doesn't break, the city of Greensboro will, in due course of time, own the property now controlled by the Greensboro Water Supply Company. It is true that the progress of the trade has been decidedly kaleidoscopic, but, unless appearances are deceptive, the end of the performance and a peaceful solution are in sight.

This turn of affairs has been brought about by the offer of the Greensboro Water Supply Company to accept for its system the sum of $75,000, the price named by the city in the last proposition made.

On account of the failure to receive a definite answer by last Saturday night, it was supposed that the city would proceed to install and operate an independent system, and the water committee had instructions to that effect. A communication was received yesterday, however, from a committee of the bondholders saying that, after consideration, it had been decided to accept the price offered by the city. The communication came from Baltimore and was signed by William C. Seddon, William H. Bosley, John S. Gitting and Archibald H. Taylor.

The aldermen were called together in special session last night for the purpose of considering the communication, all the members of the board being present except Alderman Hunter, who was in New York. A resolution to buy the waterworks was introduced and passed, Alderman Boyd casting the only vote in the negative.

By the terms of their former proposition, the aldermen were under no obligation to purchase the plant at this time if they had seen fit to do otherwise. The purchase price, $75,000, it will be remembered, is a little lower than the estimated value of the system, according to Mr. Gray, the expert.

It is thought that the affairs of the company can be put in shape and the property turned over to the city within 60 days. The property, as is known, is in the hands of a receiver and the business will have to be transacted through the court.

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT

A First Class Entertainment, Thoroughly Enjoyed by the Audience.

Last evening the Schumann Grand Concert Company, traveling under the management of Mr. J. Sanders Gordon, entertained an appreciative audience at the Academy of Music. The Schumann is not new to Greensboro people, having been here last February. The company is composed as follows:

Edith Adams,Cello
Grace Chalfear Caborn,.....Soprano
Zulime Searles Bolckom, Reader
Charlotte Selleck Tarrant,.....Harp
Each of these is an artist in her line, and all seemed to be about equally appreciated by the audience. The reporter is not musician enough to make any distinctions. Every appearance of each was encored. Meyers' "Grandfather's Clock," by Miss Bolckom, deserves especial mention. In fact, all of Miss Bolckom's renditions were excellent.

The company certainly furnish two hours of delightful entertainment, not only to professional and amateur musicians, but to all lovers of music as well.

Ten Years of Service.

Mr. R. B. Hilton today completed his tenth year of service as a letter carrier at the Greensboro postoffice. He has made a record which is probably unequalled by any other carrier in the State. During the entire ten years he has not taken a vacation nor lost a single day from sickness. Once he was compelled to remain at home two days on account of a sprained ankle.

Steadily Improving.

The condition of affairs at the State Normal and Industrial College continues to improve. There are no new cases of fever and those now sick are getting along very nicely.

THE BRITISH-GERMAN AGREEMENT.

The United States Heartily Endorses the Open Door Policy and Territorial Integrity.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Washington, Oct. 31.—The State department today made public the British-German agreement respecting the maintenance of the open door and the territorial integrity of China with the answer of the United States sent in duplicate to each of the principals to the agreement. The United States heartily endorses the open door and territorial integrity policy and expresses no opinion regarding clause three.

NEW YORK IS QUITE A VILLAGE.

Population of Eleven States Would Not Duplicate Its Number of People.

By Wire to The Telegram.
New York, Oct. 31.—The census shows that the population of Delaware, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Vermont, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Washington and Florida, eleven states, could be brought here in place of the present population and they would not fill the place of the present number.

NO CHANGE IN PRICE OF WAGONS

Representatives of Twenty-Nine Concerns Meet and Put Out the Word.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Chicago, Oct. 31.—At the annual meeting of the National Wagon Manufacturers here, representatives of twenty-nine of the largest concerns were present and it was agreed that there should be no change in the price of wagons during the coming year.

Only the Fragments of Two Bodies Found.

By Wire to The Telegram.
New York, Oct. 31.—No more than the fragments of two bodies had been found by the workers at the scene of Tarrant fire up to midnight last night. The list of missing is reduced to 26. Chlorate of potash and alcohol is believed to have been the cause of the fire. Others think an unknown combination produced the disaster.

Increase of Thirty in the House.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Washington, Oct. 31.—The official announcement of the population of the United States foreshadows an increase of thirty in the membership of the House of Representatives, making a total of 387, unless the practice that hitherto prevailed in apportionment shall be changed.

The Mountain House Burned.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Blandford, Mass., Oct. 31.—The Mountain House, a famous Blandford summer hotel, was burned early this morning. The fire started probably from a defective flue. A number of guests were in the house who had come to attend a fox hunt today, but all escaped without injury.

Lightning Explodes a Powder House.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Shanghai, Oct. 31.—A powder magazine was exploded by lightning. Many persons were killed and injured and much property destroyed.

Cotton.

By Wire to The Telegram.
New York, Oct. 31.—Cotton, Nov. 9 06; Dec., 90; Jan., Feb., April, June, 9 16; March, May 9 11.

Department at Elon College.

Mr. J. M. Hendrix was at Elon College yesterday. While watching the boys play ball he was struck with the utter absence of profanity, or any unbecoming behavior, and made inquiry. He found that every one of the 140 students were professing Christians, and of all the young men only three were not active workers in the Y. M. C. A. A meeting, held by Dr. Staley, president of the College, recently closed, at which all the students, who had not previously done so, professed religion.

Unique Advertising Scheme.

A comely young woman, a stranger, attracted a good deal of attention on the street today. She wore a short walking skirt, made of gray material, into which was sewed in flaming red letters, that could be read a block away, the advertisement of a well known shoe. Of course she wore a pair of the shoes, and her skirt was short enough to show them off to good advantage. It was a unique and attractive advertisement.

SLIGHT TROUBLE WITH MINERS.

A BABY STRIKE WAS BEGUN TODAY.

But Will be Settled—The Companies Say They Will Get New Men to Fill the Places of Strikers Who do not Return to Work at Once.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Wilkesbarre, Oct. 31.—Four hundred and fifty employees of the Delaware and Hudson Coal Company at Mill Creek struck this morning, alleging that bosses were docking them excessively and cutting off fifteen to thirty per cent. of each carload. In answer to the protests they were told they were not maintaining the topage rule which requires six inches of coal above the rim of the car.

A Hazleton dispatch today says that after working one day the men employed in the Derringer Colliery and Cox Brothers Company struck this morning. Yesterday was pay day and some difficulty has arisen over the wage question. The matter will probably be settled today and all will return to work tomorrow. All the other collieries of the region are working, a majority of them full handed. More men reported for work at Cranberry, where forty union men refused to work until the suspended engineers had been reinstated. The company says it will hire new men in place of all strikers who do not return to work.

Ransom Will Keep Out.

A telegram to the morning papers from Weldon says that General Ransom has not declared for any one in the senatorial canvass, and that his resolution to keep aloof is positive.

IT SHOWED ITS QUALITY.

Mr. Huntington's Switch Engine Did Not Disappoint Him in Its Power.

Some 17 years ago, when Collis P. Huntington was president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad company, J. K. Murray, of the vice president's staff, with Capt. Rogers, a California railroad official, was with him on his private car. Capt. Rogers had been offered the general managership of the road by Mr. Huntington, and he was going over the line. The train stopped and a switching engine was attached to the end of Mr. Huntington's car to pull it out.

At that moment, relates a Chicago exchange, the party on the car was breakfasting, and Mr. Huntington was seated at the table nearest the door, deftly carving a steak. The switching engine had been coupled to the other end of the car and started off, and it happened that the brakeman forgot to uncouple the bell rope between the car and the rest of the train, so, as the switching engine pulled the private car away from the train, the rope stood the strain until it became taut and then broke with a rebound that sent one end with terrific force into Mr. Huntington's car.

The flying rope with its metal end grazed Mr. Huntington's head and shattered the meat platter in front of him. He quietly began to pick up the fragments, and Capt. Rogers remarked: "That was a narrow escape, Mr. Huntington."

The railroad king, with his manner unchanged, replied: "I don't know, captain. I would have felt pretty mean if one of those new switching engines of ours couldn't pull a bell rope in half."

Changed Shirts with Each Other.

The Outlook tells this story illustrative of the fussy, amateur generalship which has cost the British so dearly in South Africa: Notice was received in the various camps that on such and such a morning every man in Gen. —'s army must change his shirt. The Imperial Light horse, who formed part of the command, had only one shirt apiece, and that was on their backs, so a messenger was dispatched to headquarters to explain. But Gen. — rose at once to the occasion. "My orders," he remarked grandly, "are imperative. If the Imperial Light horse have not got a second shirt let them change shirts with each other."

Small Horses Best.

The experience of the British in South Africa is said to have demonstrated the superiority of small horses to the larger as draft animals in the field of hostilities. They can go longer without food, it is said, can do just as much good work and make a smaller target for the enemy.

Newfoundland Sealing.

The Newfoundland sealing season has been the best for the past 25 years, 375,000 seal having been captured.

MR. BRYAN HOPEFUL

He Thinks That He Has More Than an Even Chance of Carrying New York.

Before leaving New York last night on the conclusion of his canvass of that State, Mr. Bryan said:

"If the reports which come from the various counties where polls have been made can be taken as representing the general sentiment throughout the State, we have more than an even chance of carrying the State."

MCGUIRE SAYS 50,000.

Executive Chairman James K. McGuire, of the Democratic State committee, of New York, gave out last night the first estimate from the Democratic State committee on how the State would go. He said:

"Our canvass of the State gives Bryan 50,000 majority and it also shows that the Republicans will not come to the Bronx with more than 70,000 majority. I have refrained from making any statements heretofore until our canvass is completed. This estimate on our canvass is a very conservative one."

Queen Victoria Failing.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—A special to the Philadelphia Record says Queen Victoria is failing fast. The Princess of Wales is also ill.

MANY RETIRING M. P.'S.

Several Scottish Members of Parliament Will Not Return to Their Seats.

Scotland will send more new faces to parliament when Lord Salisbury advises her majesty to issue her election fiat than any other portion of the kingdom, says a London paper. Those two eminent authorities on matters of marine, Sir Thomas Sutherland and Sir Donald Currie, have signified their intention to retire from public office. The latter has aged considerably of late, but Sir Thomas is the same keen-eyed, healthy-looking time-defying, rubicund complexioned Caledonian that he has been any time these 20 years past. The career of Sir Thomas Sutherland is one of the romances of the contemporary commercial world. From the representation of the P. and O. in faraway Hong-Kong he has worked his way up to the presidency and supreme direction of one of the biggest shipping businesses in the world.

Another Scottish member who will be missed in the next house is Sir William Wedderburn, the leader of the little band of earnest Indian reformers, and a retired Indian official of many years' experience, whose knowledge of all the problems connected with the administration of our great Asiatic dependency is quite cyclopaedic. Sir Charles Cameron, who has for many years been a conspicuous figure in Scottish science and journalism; Sir T. Gibson Carmichael, for whom five years of the weary round at Westminster have sufficed, and W. McEwan, the Edinburgh brewer and benefactor, are also going on the retired list.

RHODE ISLAND'S HOMING HEN!

The Faithful Fowl Takes Food Elsewhere, But Will Lay Only in Her Native Nest.

About a year and a half ago Mr. X—, who lives on the Riverpoint side of Gough avenue, in Providence, R. I., says the Journal of that city, built a henhouse and embarked in the keeping of fowls—not the web-footed, white Wyandotte variety, but just plain, ordinary hens. A neighbor, Mrs. K—, who lives on the Jericho side, in order to help the young man start hen housekeeping, as it were, gave him a pullet, which he fed and cared for until it reached maturity and an age when it could be expected, in the natural order of things, to pay its board by contributing an egg occasionally to the family larder. It wasn't that kind of a bird, however. Like some other bipeds, it preferred the coop of its birth to the henhouse of its adoption, and, after feeding on the substance provided in the latter, the hen would hie her across the avenue to Mrs. K—'s coop and deposit her egg in her native nest. She had been feeding on X—'s corn and laying in Mrs. K—'s coop a long time before the fact was discovered. Then she was watched, and day after day she was seen to run over into Jericho, lay an egg, announce the fact in the hen vernacular, and then run back to where she found food and shelter in the Riverpoint hencoop of her owner. This Riverpoint hen will lay for no one but the lady-that-owned-the-hen-that-sat-on-the-egg from which this homing hen was hatched.

DEMOCRATS AWAITING TRIAL.

CASE TO BE HEARD NOVEMBER 8TH.

Released on Bond for Appearance—Pritchard in Raleigh Last Night—An Old Copy of the New York Sun—This Weather is Making Cotton—Organization of the Reformatory Association.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Oct. 31.—Last night Senator Pritchard spoke here, at Metropolitan Hall, to a good audience, in which there was quite a sprinkling of Democrats. He was introduced by J. A. Giles, republican candidate for Congress in this district. Among the Senator's hearers was ex-Judge Ewart.

Hill J. Reid, of Hertford county, presents the State Museum with No. 1, Volume 1, of the New York Sun, of date Sept. 3, 1833. The paper is of 4 pages and only a trifle larger than a letter sheet. The paper and the printing are both of high quality.

Manager Rivers has certainly booked a lot of attractions at the Academy of Music—Howard Gould in "Rupert of Hentzen"; Hoyts "A Milk White Flag"; with 40 people in the cast; Thomas A. Leabrooke in "The Rounders"; "A Runaway Girl"; Roland Reed in "A Modern Crusoe"; the "Black Patti"; May Irwin in "The Bostonians"; Lousa's band; "The Wife"; Gertrude Coghlan in "Vanity Fair"; "The Casino Girl"; and "Miss Hobbs."

There are now 270 pupils in the institution for the blind and Principal John E. Ray says no more will be received after this date, as it interferes so greatly with work of the classes.

November 7, all the convicts now picking cotton on the State farms on the Roanoke river, who were transferred there for railway work, will be returned to the latter work.

A cotton dealer here says this wonderful weather is "making cotton," and that if it continues, there will be a good top crop further south.

The Democrats in Johnston county, who were given a hearing Monday on the charge of intimidation, have given bond, in the sum of $500 each, for appearance November 8, to which date the hearing is continued. The defense makes the point that the United States constitution nowhere guarantees suffrage.

There is likely to be a strong and earnest movement for a State exposition here two years hence. It can be made an even greater success than that of 1884, marked as was the success of the latter.

This week the North Carolina Home Insurance Company will occupy its new office.

The very warm weather will keep most sportsmen out of the fields Thursday, when the partridge season begins. The grass is very rank and the hunting will be hard on dogs. The birds are very abundant.

The North Carolina Reformatory Association was organized Monday night at State Treasurer Worth's office. The president is A. L. Chamberlain; secretary, Charles D. Roberts; treasurer, John T. Pullen. The latter is also chairman of the executive committee, which has nine members. There are vice presidents representing the various organizations and orders.

Yesterday the 22d. annual colored State Fair was held at the State fair grounds, and was formally opened by J. C. L. Harris, who spoke as the representative of Governor Russell. The first fair was held in November, 1879, at what is now the Soldiers' Home. An artist and a writer, representing Harper's Weekly were here and got up some clever sketches. A lot of us newspaper folks gave them a 'possum supper, in which they took great delight. During one day of the fair there was quite a lively snowstorm.

One of the friends of Simmons says that returns from 65 counties show his majority will approximate 35,000.

The Supreme Court yesterday called the Sixth District appeals. The following lawyers are attending this week: H. G. Connor, of Wilson; Junius Davis, R. K. Bryan, L. V. Grady, Irrell Meares and Herbert McClammy, of Wilmington; H. E. Stevens, of Warsaw; W. R. Allen, of Goldsboro; L. A. Beasley, of Kernersville.

The people who build air castles evidently have great confidence in the utility of air ships.

Lots of bills come in on the first of the month, but there will be only one Bill after November 6.

Next to the Consumer is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been too low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

When the Democratic Party Will Die.
Published by Request.

We have been requested to publish the following classical poem, which is going the rounds of the Democratic press. It has something of the dash of Tennyson's, "Charge of the Light Brigade," though somewhat inferior to that poem in euphony. It is like Whittier in homeliness of illustration, and like the Quaker poet, the author makes an imperishable fact live in song. The author of this poem is a Texan, which will account for the more forcible than elegant expression with which it concludes.

The Democratic party has been officially declared a corpse at least a dozen times in a hundred years. Those who have undertaken to lift the remains of the party into the coffin, have had the experience of the man who offered to help bury a dead mule, and have been carried away on litters.

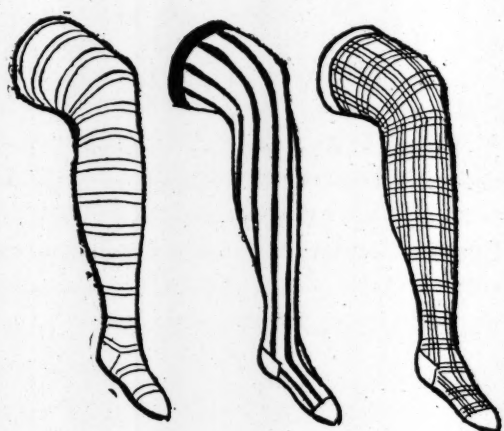

We advise all who anticipate attending the funeral of the Democratic party to take out heavy accident policies before coming near the corpse. Dead as it may seem, it will attend the funeral of the Republican party as it has attended in the past the funeral of the Federalist, Whig, Greenback and a dozen other parties. But to the poem:

When the lion eats grass like an ox,
And the fishing worm swallows the whale;
When the terrapins knit woolen socks,
And the hare is outrun by the snail;
When the serpents walk upright like men
And doodlebugs travel like frogs;
When the grasshopper feeds on the hen,
And feathers are found on hogs;
When Thomas cats swim in the air,
And elephants roost upon trees;
When insects in summer are rare,
And snuff never makes people sneeze;
When fishes creep over dry land,
And mule on velocipedes ride;
When foxes lay eggs in the sand,
And women in dress take no pride;
When Dutchmen no longer beer drink,
And girls get to preaching on time;
When billy goats butt from the rear,
And treason is no longer a crime;
When humming birds bray like an ass,
And limberger smells like cologne;
When plowshares are made out of glass,
And the hearts of Carolinians of stone;
When ideas grow in Populists heads,
And wool on the hydraulic ram—
Then the Democratic party will be dead,
And this country won't be worth a d—n.

Woman Knows Woman.

ZURICH, KAN., Jan. 31.
I used Wine of Cardui for nervousness and weakness in the womb. After taking one bottle I was well again. I am a midwife and always recommend Wine of Cardui to my lady friends during pregnancy and after birth as a tonic. Every lady who takes it finds that it does even more than is claimed for it.

MRS. V. M. BOISVERT.

Wine of Cardui

Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. Is it any wonder she recommends it?

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1900.

IS HE A HYPOCRITE?

There is not, as we have before said, another newspaper published in the United States, so far as our knowledge goes, that has so much really interesting matter in it, matter written by the best of talent, from the most routine daily work to the full editorial page, as The New York Sun. There is, consequently, a certain sort of admiration and liking for the paper that causes one to read it even though opposed to every sentiment it utters. This is no doubt due to the fact that people admire cleverness even though it is misapplied. The Sun doubtless knows this and plays its very audacity as a card to hold its readers, for surely, in all its political vacillations, it has not been able to carry the opinions of its clientele with it, and it would grieve any real lover of humanity to think that any number of people really entertain all the viciousness that the Sun continually expresses. Sooner or later this paper proves everybody else, friend or foe, wrong, and its sole self right. The man it brands today it lauds tomorrow, and vice versa. Here is the way it speaks of Mr. O. H. P. Belmont, the Democratic member of, and candidate for re-election to, Congress from the Thirteenth district of New York:

That political mountebank, Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont, who toddles around the Thirteenth Congress district burdened with the Bryanite doctrines of free silver at 16 to 1, dishonor to the flag, and contempt for the Supreme Court of the United States, the final bulwark of American liberty, is known as one of the finest hypocrites in this campaign.

Every dollar of his fortune was inherited from a hard-working father, August Belmont, one of the greatest Democrats the party ever had.

But August Belmont gained his vast wealth by upright business methods and through sound investments in sound money properties. He would have scoffed at Ollie Belmont's hypocritical pronouncements in favor of financial and industrial lawlessness.

O. H. P. Belmont has tried to gain political distinction from the hour he started the Verdict, a weekly newspaper which has denounced in violent terms, both personally and politically, every Democrat who has dared to differ with Bryan. With his vast fortune and regal establishments he is chasing around the Thirteenth district begging, pleading and imploring voters to give him a seat in the House of Representatives.

What will Belmont do in the seat if he is elected? What deep-seated wisdom has he on the great political and economical questions of the day? His speeches are inane. His political drivellings are a disgrace even to a Bryanite. Is this man's political hypocrisy to be recognized by the voters of the Thirteenth Congress district?

If we are not mistaken, the Democrats of the Thirteenth district re-nominated Mr. Belmont without his consent and over his earnest protest. Certainly if a gentleman of his position wished only political preferment he could much more easily and perhaps with more agreeableness to his class, find it in the Republican party. There must, therefore, be some other reason than pure ambition, for his conduct. Certainly he cannot be a political hypocrite. If Mr. Belmont were tomorrow to declare for McKinley, The Sun would, without the least hesitation, and before the ink of the above is dry, declare him a foremost patriot and statesman. And it would do so with as many pretty turns of speech as it now uses mean ones in denouncing him. Perhaps in this particular The Sun does not stand alone, still, we wonder at it.

The night before last a stranger from I-owe-way walked into the sanctum of the Philadelphia Times and laid down a manuscript which he said was the report of an interview he had just had with ex-President Cleveland, the gist of which is this:

For an hour Mr. Cleveland fought shy of any reference to the political situation. He urged that he no longer takes any active interest in politics and is content to quietly look on. Then our conversation turned to the conditions in the West, and after a little reminiscent talk, Mr. Cleveland said:

"My young man, you will see a landslide for Bryan the morning after election. Of this I am confident."

To this I replied that the indications, according to the Republican leaders, are favorable to McKinley, but he quickly retorted:

"Of course they are. That is policy."

What I tell you is my private opinion."

Whereupon, The Times stopped the press, slapped in the interview, and doubtless patted the man from I-owe-way on the head for bringing the interview to it instead of carrying it to some other paper. But yesterday the whole thing was denounced by Mr. Cleveland as a falsehood, and this morning, like the square paper that it is, The Times makes such amends as it can. And the public still knows nothing of what the ex-President will do.

Roosevelt informs us that Porto Rico is advancing by leaps and bounds. It will no doubt soon become necessary to curb her with more tariff. It never pays to let a youngster get too frisky.

Some one asks why the hoodlums always attack Roosevelt. For the same reason that the faithful subjects of his Sultanic majesty who tour America punch their grizzlies—it helps the performance.

The publication by Mr. W. R. Henry of his reasons for joining the Republican party has been received by the newspapers as an entirely unnecessary consumption of valuable space.

The Philadelphia Times ought to have known that Mr. Cleveland would never have familiarly called any stranger from I-owe-way or any other place, "my boy".

Some folks are now taking up valuable space that should be devoted to the abuse of candidates for deploring the inauguration of the primary.

In depriving the public of his opinions just now Mr. Cleveland must know that he is acting entirely without the consent of the governed.

The primary is all right. Better do the linen cleansing act before than after.

CAMPAIGN SONG FOR SIMMONS.

Published by Request.
Come all ye brave sons of Carolina,
From the mountains clear down to Perquimmons,
And shout like the thunders of Sinai
For our gallant young Senator Simmons.

CHORUS.

We'll shout for the State's chiefest star,
Born on mountain or "Hatteras bar."

He's a Moses on Sinai's top
Compared to your little Jule Carr.

You'd just as well vote for Mark Hanna,

As to vote for Julian S. Carr,
One formed a trust on the iron,
The other cornered the cigar.

One's a Shylock in the Buck-Eye,
The other's demanding his dues;
Both are sleeked up millionaires
The products of the bulls and the bears.

We'll vote for our Senator Simmons,
Let the trusts take care of Jule Carr;
Go on your "grandest excursion"
We'll save the old State, or we'll die.

VOTER.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, and get a trial bottle free, Regular size 50 and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

Many a man acquires a hectic flush from playing poker.

WORKING NIGHT AND DAY.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globe of health, that changed weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25 cents per box. Sold by C. E. Holton.

The rounder often has difficulty in squaring himself.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the worn out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It may be taken in all conditions and cannot help but do you good.

A rose by any other name would cost as much.

Feelings of safety pervade the household that uses the One Minute Cough Cure, the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It is infallible for coughs, colds, croup, and all throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. Howard Gardner.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to insist upon discussing the campaign issues with total strangers.

RED HOT FROM THE GUN

Was the ball that hit G. B. Steadman, of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for twenty years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, fions, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Blobs—"What a red nose Guzzler has." Slobbs—"Yes; that seems to be the only place in which he blushes for his sins."

Large sun spots, astronomers say, cause the extreme heat this summer, and doctors declare nearly all the prostrations were induced by disorders of the stomach. Good health follows good digestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. If you have indigestion or dyspepsia it will quickly relieve and permanently cure you. Howard Gardner.

TOWN TOPICS TOMORROW NIGHT

A great percentage of theatre patrons now-a-days prefer attractions which do not require mental labor in the following of a plot, but whose sole object is to drive away care and provoke laughter. Heavy plays, especially of the so-called higher order, are all right in their way, but the experience of successful managers shows that comedies and farce comedies hold the public sway. "Town Topics," one of the last named class, has always been a winning favorite, and it has run a great race, so to speak throughout the country.

Different characters and scenes in a boarding house furnish abundant fun-making, all of which is clean and pungent. In fact, it may be said without exaggeration that the piece bubbles over with spicy things, witty and laughable sayings, tuneful songs, unique dances and picturesque groupings. Go prepared to laugh when "Town Topics" is here.

The meeting of Cartland Council No. 99, Jr. O. U. A. M., has been postponed from Thursday to Friday night. The meeting will be held in Odd Fellows Hall at 8 o'clock.

After an absence of 25 years, Mr. A. L. Boon, of Mississippi, was here last night on his way to Burlington to visit relatives. Mr. Boon is a native of Guilford county, but has been away for twenty-five years. He was naturally much impressed with the changes that have taken place during his absence.

PHOTOGRAPHS ON THE SKIN.

One May Carry a Picture of a Friend Upon His Flesh Perpetually.

A scientific discovery is bound to be picturesque and interesting, and must attract universal attention. A Roumanian chemist named Dinkeresco discovered a means of combining the substances which are used in sensitizing paper for photographic purposes so that they can be applied to the human cuticle without injuring it, and the skin thus be made a sensitive plate for the printing of photography. Dinkeresco's remarkable discovery is a combination of photography and the etching process, and that to some extent the image is "bitten" into the cuticle.

At any rate the impression is permanent, the image is clear and distinct, and the skin is not made a negative, but really a sort of sensitized paper. The impression does not wear away with the change of the tissues and the renewal of the surface of the skin because the substances or changes which have been produced by the process of photography are renewed according to the modifications produced by the "biting" process, just as those of a tattooed outline are. And whatever the mechanical means employed, the results are remarkable. By this means every human being becomes a sort of photograph album. The likenesses of his friends, landscape views associated with his childhood or with significant events in his life, portraits of the great men and heroes whom he admires and many other things may be reproduced beautifully and permanently on his surface.

One of the Ironies of War.

Capt. Lans, of the German navy, who took such a prominent part in the capture of the Taku forts, writes home that the Germans captured at that place 17 guns of various caliber and much ammunition. "These," declares Capt. Lans, "are the guns which have killed and wounded so many of my brave fellows, and which alas! like almost all the enemy's guns and ammunition, come from our native country. The guns are all modern quick-firers from Krupp's."

The stock fairly bubbles with handsome and attractive fabrics, fresh from the looms of the best makers in this and other countries. Is it any wonder, then, that we are doing the business of the city? At times our store is so crowded we cannot give customers the attention we would like to. Would say just here that the aisles of our store are as free as the streets of the city, and we expect everybody to feel perfectly at home, and also ask customers to overlook any seeming neglect that may occur while we are in the midst of the rush. RHEUMATISM

No sure cure is yet known for chronic rheumatism. No man living can cure it always. He can try. If he fails he can try another way.

There are many ways. Some harmless; others worse than the rheumatism. Better not take the chance of quack medicines.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil cures rheumatism only by crowding it out by vital force. If that succeeds, it succeeds; if that fails, it fails. It never does any harm.

We'll send you a little to try if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

When the Hair Falls Out accompanied by mucous patches in the mouth, eruptions on the skin, sore throat, copper-colored spots, swollen glands, aching muscles and bones, the disease is making rapid headway, and far worse symptoms will follow unless the blood is promptly and effectually cleansed of this violent destructive poison.

S. S. S. is the only safe and infallible cure for this disease, the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures the worst cases thoroughly and permanently.

My Condition Could Have Been No Worse.

In the fall of 1897 I contracted Blood Poison. I tried three doctors, but their treatment did me no good; I was getting worse all the time; my hair came out, ulcers appeared in my throat and mouth, my body was almost covered with copper colored spots and offensive sores. I suffered severely from rheumatic pains in my shoulders and arms. My condition could have been no worse; only those afflicted as I was lost all hope of ever being well again when I decided to try S. S. S., but must confess I had little faith left in any medicine. After taking the third bottle I noticed a change in my condition. This was truly encouraging, and I determined to give S. S. S. a thorough trial. From that time on the improvement was rapid; S. S. S. seemed to have the disease completely under control; the sores and ulcers healed and I was soon free from all signs of the disorder; I have been strong and healthy ever since.

Send for our free book on Blood Poison; it contains valuable information about this disease, with full directions for self treatment. We charge nothing for medical advice; cure yourself at home.

PARADISE

By Eloise Jane Huff.

THE young mother had been into the dim shadows where Death and Life struggle, and win or lose, just at the happiest, sweetest, fullest hour which had been hers, when love took on a new and tender selfishness, when its lilted, dancing measures broke into the deep melody of an anthem, and, as she drifted back into the light again, thus it was that she half wished and half prayed in her still childish way that Death would never take this woman-child of hers as long as Life held Happiness—that love of Life should be a talisman to stay the hand of Death.

Thrice in the woman's threescore years Death had come to woo her from his brother Life out into the far beyond, that unknown land, that hereafter which he called Paradise, and of which he spoke with a wondrous eloquence and a great witchery.

When first he came it was just at the dawn of day, just as the east was flushing in the faint rays of the rising sun and the birds twittered in the trees; shod with silence he glided through the quiet halls and still hushed household, among the watchers with wet faces and terror-touched eyes. All unseen, though they looked for his coming, he went in the gray of the spring morning into the sweet sanctity of the girl's chamber. Pausing on the threshold, as if loth to enter an unbidden guest, he noted all its whiteness and its dainty simplicity; noted, too, on the muslin-draped dressing table a tiny silver frame, with the pictured face of a youth, an earnest, grave face; and Death smiled at the story it told. But he went to the bed where she lay as one asleep, until she seemed to be already Death's own. He stood beside her and looked with sad eyes and cold, impassive brow at the child who was his for the taking, and it was in tenderness and with a love and pity surpassing the human that he gazed on the fair young face, like an untouched lily leaf, the unwritten brow, the sweet childish mouth, upon which the kisses of love had left neither song nor sigh, the slender little hands, so weak and fragile, and he stooped and touched her with his pulseless fingers as he said: "My child, you are ready, you are willing to come with me? For I am your friend, and will give you eternal calm and peace, a gift which human love and care cannot bestow. I will take you to a land where you will never lose your-

A GOOD THING.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cts. Some men are born great, and others become ingrates.

youth; I will save you from Life. Look into the faces of the aged, my little maid, and read there of all that Life writes upon faces once as fresh and fair as yours; all that love entails; all that lengthened years give to those who wait too long for me; the fever that is ambition; the delirium that is love; the chill that is regret; the ceaseless anguish of sorrow and disappointment that dims the eyes fixed upon the things of this world."

His voice had almost the wooing and the pleading of a lover, as he saw in her awakened eyes the cloudless, untroubled soul of a child.

"From all this I will save you. Come with me now before Life has taught you to yearn for me, for I come not at your call, however sorrowing and loud."

The girl gazed upon him with a great wonder in her gentle, dove-like eyes; she quietly unclasped his hold and laid her fingers caressingly upon some faded roses on the bed beside her, and she said, as one repeats words of a foreign tongue, all unlearned in their meaning: "Regret, sorrow, disappointment—what are these?"

"Death went on: 'Come, my child; come with me to Paradise, to the land where all is serenity, all is joy and content; where the days are all one as another in their changeless, tranquil happiness.' And then, as Death became the more imperative, as he again touched her with his icy fingers, she looked across the room until she met the pictured face, and something like firmness gathered and settled upon her childish features. 'That is not Paradise of which you tell me.' Then she hesitated, but, looking straight and direct into the close, stern face of Death, a little faint flush creeping into her cheeks and a sweet, unafraid womanliness growing upon her as she spoke: 'That is not Paradise. Paradise is here, because John is here.'

And Death went his way with empty arms, and when she waked the watchers said that she wandered, still she was feverish and distraught, although her eyes were placid and clear and her voice even and sweet, for she said: "No, I will not go with you; Paradise is here."

It was noon, a still summer noon when Death came again, meeting, as he glided through the solemn quiet of the waiting, praying, desolate home, a man whose face was as pale and set as Death's own; whose eyes were heavy with unshed tears; children with a strange grief upon their hearts. But heedless, un pitying Death passed them by, and went once again for the one who was brought into the shadow of his wing. But it was a different scene that met his eyes as he paused for an instant at the door; it was a mother's room now, wide and spacious. Over the mantel the pictured face of a man, a scholarly face, pure of outline and direct and firm of expression, seemed to dominate the room, and the groups of children's portraits, little shoes upon the floor, little stockings in the great, wide workbasket, schoolbooks and slates on the desk by the window, all typified her life, with its broad, unselfish, womanly interests, its loves and its cares, its duties and its pleasures. Once again she listened to Death's pleadings, and as he looked upon her, he almost envied Life the beauty he had written upon her face. Youth and freshness were gone, spent as a generous giver does mere gold, in loving service, glad to be the poorer; but there was grace and loveliness passing that of form or color in the quiet, Madonna-like eyes, the thoughtful brow, the mouth kept sweet and mellow by sunshine and rain, the words of love and the crooning of cradle songs; all was there, all the Life from which he had warned her—tears and laughter, moments of joy, hours of sorrow and grief, years of sweet, calm, even-paced content, hope, patience, anxiety, realization—the story was all written there, and it was gain, not loss; beauty, strength and all lovable womanliness, but Death despaired not, even though he saw more of happiness than of sorrow.

"Now you are ready to come with me to Paradise; you who have known grief and loss, for I have taken your children from your arms, and they bloom there. You have seen all that Life imposes; you have known weariness; you have felt the thorns and briars along the path. Life has not spared you labor or care. To you, and such as you, I come as a deliverer; one who bestows rest after long toil. All Life's burdens will be lifted, and you will forever fold your hands in eternal peace. Come with me, you who should greet the coming of a friend who will give you Paradise."

But she looked up into his face, into the passion-pure, marble-like features of Death, and, as the glow of the Northern Lights flashes into roseate hue even fields of ice and snow, so the face of Death became illumined with all but human beauty and expression, as she said, her voice not the timid, faltering tones of the blushing maid who had once answered his plea, but the full-rounded, melodious accents of a woman: "Go your way, Death. I know all that life means, all that love gives and takes, and again will I say, after all these years, Paradise is not with you; Paradise is here, happiness is here, for John is here!"

And Death trailed his ghostly garments through the house and went alone, with almost a bitterness against his brother Life, who could so hold out and so charm. When she waked she said, as one who had routed and conquered a foe: "What does he know of Paradise? Paradise is here, for you, my beloved, are here."

Evening shadows were gathering when Death came again. The room was all in half lights; a mother's room still, but no longer that happy mother of little children. No little shoes upon the floor, no little stockings in the work basket; the low rocker where so many lullabies had been sung was gone; the little pile of school books and slates was put away; the lessons to be learned in mother's room were not to be conned from books, or written upon slates. The man's face still looked down from the mantel, but the pictures around it were no longer of children, but of men and women. All was changed, all the childish life was folded away, but the anxious ones as he passed them looked with eyes that stirred his memory, the fathomless, ages-old memory of Death, with a recollection of two other faces—the child and the woman, neither of whom would go with him in these buried years.

But now he had scarcely paused by her side when she said to him as one who greets and welcomes and half chides a friend who has tarried too long: "Why have you waited such a weary time to come for me? I have been watching and praying for you—oh, so long! and you let me linger." And, as he gazed upon her out of the depths of the past he remembered her, although it was an old and worn face that was lifted so wistfully to his, white and lined, framed in snowy hair, tired and grief-stricken, but the voice was the same, though all its vibrant tones were stilled, that voice that always took on a softer measure at one name. So it was that when they found her, the men and woman who called her Mother, on her face was a strange, sweet peace, and a smile almost of triumph and much of youth; for it came when she placed her hand in that of Death, and said: "Yes, I will go with you to Paradise, for John is there."
